We offer a unique experience to explore sea, land and people as well as their culture, not only to individual sailors, but also families, groups, and tour operators.

We are proud to be able to provide you with sustainable and environmentally friendly tourism. By sailing together, we also support the preservation of valuable maritime traditions. You can come onboard as voyage crew and actively participate in sailing and life on board all of that in a family atmosphere. We have been supporting expeditions and environmental research on climate change and ocean pollution for the last two generations. With the trademark ECOSHIP and the associated projects such as cargo under sail, with our own coffee brand "VELA VELA", we maintain our values and maritime tradition.

The jewel in the Mediterranean has seven inhabited islands, and each one is different. From lovely green hills to seething craters, you will find a wide variety of unique natural landscapes in a very small space. In 2000 the archipelago of the Aeolian Islands was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Regular volcanic eruptions of the Stromboli offer a true natural spectacle, and the volcanic mountains and Mediterranean landscapes are a true hiking paradise.

Stromboli Volcanological Guides

Founded in 2002, Magmatrek brings together a dedicated group of Volcanological Guides who live and work in Stromboli and Ginostra, united by a shared passion for the island and its volcano. Our mission is to celebrate and promote the rich natural and cultural heritage of the Aeolian archipelago and Sicily as a whole. Through our excursions, we aim to impart our extensive naturalistic, anthropological, and historical knowledge, acquired from years of experience. Participants receive detailed insights into the area's vegetation, fauna, and geology. Our technical expertise ensures a safe and enriching experience. Our tours are in English.

Please note !

Our tours cater to all types of travelers, from families and solo adventurers to photography enthusiasts and researchers. For the enjoyment and safety of everyone, it's crucial that participants maintain a good level of fitness. This allows everyone to comfortably keep up with our planned activities. Participants should be prepared to hike for 6 to 7 hours and manage altitudes reaching up to 1000 meters in steep and slippery terrain. Achieving this fitness level not only enhances personal safety and enjoyment but also fosters a positive group dynamic, enabling everyone to fully appreciate the breathtaking landscapes and exhilarating experiences each excursion has to offer.

Please note that daily itineraries depend on wind, weather, and volcanic activity. The Captain and guide create the final program, prioritizing safety while ensuring an enjoyable experience for everyone. Each voyage is unique, offering spontaneity and discovery.

- Vulcano: The Gran Cratere hike offers breathtaking views with a 4 km round trip. It's moderately difficult due to steep inclines but rewarding with stunning volcanic landscapes.
- Lipari: "The largest island in the archipelago offers a variety of trails and insights into its geology, history, and stunning landscapes. The guide can suggest different options to help the group find the ideal way to explore the island."
- Salina: Climbing Monte Fossa delle Felci is a 10 km round trip. It's a challenging hike with steep sections, but the views from the highest point in the Aeolian Islands are spectacular.
- Panarea: The punta del corvo hike is 7,6 km long, easy to moderate in difficulty, offering beautiful coastal views and a peaceful journey through Mediterranean flora.
- Stromboli: The Sciara del Fuoco trek is moderately difficult, stretching over 7 km. It offers an exhilarating experience with views of the active volcano and the Strombolian activity, especially thrilling at night.

Our guests

from all walks of life seek pleasure, adventure, and something different: Sailing, snorkeling, kayaking, hiking active volcanoes, photography, cultural tours, culinary tours, and embracing eco-friendly values. Discover off-the-beaten-path experiences, naturalist tours, water sports, 6000 years of history, scientific research, or simply enjoy a relaxing sail through the Mediterranean Islands.

This is what sailing is about with the Tallship Florette.

We understand that the wind always has the last say. That's why we don't sail by a fixed plan or timeline - every day is unique and depends on the circumstances around us. Captain Ron Haynes has sailed all his life and has been the Captain of Florette for the past 25 years in the charter business. He with his family and crew will make sure your stay will be very special and unforgettable.

Depending on the sailing area, weather and location, a daily plan will be made. This will give you the opportunity to see the highlights and still be able to relax and enjoy.

We like to support the locals by using their excursions and enjoying their local foods. To give us more flexibility, we provide usually six meals per week on most voyages which we use best in our daily plans and charge extra if we feel we need more meals on board.

Although you will be embarking on an sailing voyage and the emphasis will be on your enjoyment of the experience, you will be on the vessel as a Voyage Crew Member.

Your role as a Voyage Crew Member will involve you learning about and participating in ship-board life. Allowances will be made for age and abilities. No previous sailing experience is necessary. The term "VOYAGE CREW" defines any persons coming onboard for pleasure and or as an active member of the permanent crew, trainee/ Mitsegler, youths or as a student.

Due to the nature of the ship and activities we require all Voyage Crew Members to be in good health and be fit. We want you to have fun!

Generally, we don't recommend this type of vacation to anyone who is 70 years or older. All seniors over 60 years during voyages in the Atlantic and Caribbean must have a letter of good health from a medical doctor stating they are fit to join the intended voyage.

Before all delivery voyages and Ocean sailings, we require all voyage crew to have an interview with Captain Ron Haynes to discuss if this type of voyage is suitable for you. Especially on longer voyages having a nice constellation of people on board is very important to us, as we will be living together in limited space for sometimes over a month.

The length of the voyage, the voyage crew constellation, and your age, experience and fitness will be considered. Of course, if you have sailed before with us you will be warmly welcomed on board.

Young Sailor

Is any person joining Florette between ages 15-30.

We have on some voyages special rates so young people and families can enjoy our adventures.

People joining under the age of 18 will have to fill out an extra form and have their parent's consent.

Also, in this case you will be required to have an interview with Captain Ron Haynes to discuss if this type of voyage is suitable for you. On certain voyages the cabin may be shared with their parents. Children under 14 years of age come on board for free.

CABINS

There are eleven double cabins on board. All cabins are equipped with running water, a 220V connection, a small table, a cabinet and a big deck hatch for fresh air and natural daylight. The cabins are equipped traditionally with bunk beds (without a ladder) or a small double bed. The beds have spring mattresses, pillows, sheet and blankets. The ship has heating and air conditioning.

Cabin space

The total space is very generous for a maximum number of 27 guests. Nevertheless, the cabins and the sanitary facilities are very small compared to the ones on land. However, once you get used to the very compact design of the bathroom and toilet, you will wonder how such small a space can be used so well. Please note that there is minimal space in the cabin so please avoid bulky luggage like large suitcases.

Hammock for our Young Sailor

Please note that daily itineraries depend on wind, weather, and volcanic activity. The Captain and guide create the final program, prioritizing safety while ensuring an enjoyable experience for everyone. Each voyage is unique, offering spontaneity and discovery
